~~507.3.1 Coordinators—The president, with the concurrence of the Executive Committee, may appoint coordinators. The Board of Directors may grant a coordinator the same rights and responsibilities as the chairs of standing committees. A coordinator, with the concurrence of the president, may appoint a working group to assist the coordinator.~~

Rationale: Too vague. The president already has the ability to create task forces or ad hoc committees. If the subject matter is an offshoot of any standing committee, it would be a sub committee. “Coordinator” is a term used in staffing duties, which would fall to the Executive Director to assign.*
